

Reducing Adolescent Relationship Violence

Please join us for a special conversation with community leaders to address and prevent relationship violence among the young people we serve.

Wednesday, June 16, 2010

1:30-5 p.m.

East Tower Auditorium

This conversation will be facilitated by Annie Lyles of the Prevention Institute – a nationally recognized organization based in Oakland, Calif., with an established track record in strengthening primary prevention practices, advancing policy and enhancing public health. We welcome your input as we begin a strategic planning process to reduce adolescent relationship violence in our community.

Excellence.
